THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION. The people are surfeited with con ventions and elections. We are already in the midst of a canvass for Supreme Court Judges, and on Saturday next delegates are to be elected to the Democratic County Convention to be held on Monday next, for the purpose of nominating candidates for County Register and Judge of the business as may have makes out a series of violations of the treaty on the part of Spain, which, in gress and members of the State Legislature. The elections to be held in August and November are of the highest importance, and all should feel that interest in the result which should animate good citizens desirous of seeing important offices in the hands of honest and competent men, But frequent as will have been the elections for 1870-stale as will have become the cry to rally to the support of Tom, Dick and Harry-the people should patiently bear the infliction and zealously discharge their duties consoled by the pleasing reflection that there will be but few election during the next four years scarcely enough to break the monotony of business habits or to give zest and variety to life. While these elections are pending, we shall, at the risk of wearying our readers, admonish them of their duty-the first of which is to attend the ward and district meetings on next Saturday. It will be seen from the published call of the Excentive Committee, that the districts will hold their primary meetings at three o'clock p.m., and the ward meeting at eight p.m. It is of the ut most importance that good men be selected as delegates. Party drones inveigh against packed conventions and bad nomi nations; but they fail to aftend_the primary meetings and to serve as delegates themselves. The party calls, with lusty voice, for the selection of good delegates, and against the packing of the Convention on Monday next. The only way to accomplish these results is to attend the ward and district meetings, and to see to it that good men are sent as delegates. To leave the selection of delegates in the hands of tricksters or unscrupulous office-seekers, is the hight of folly, and is really eriminal neglect of political duty. The great mass of the Democratic party, we are South Carolinians, to be running on But neither the American nor the confident, earnestly desires that all delegates they send to the Convention shall be competent, honest, intelligent and worthy men; and if they will only take sufficient interest in the primary election for delegates to elect such men, and only such men, as are animated by pure and proper motives, all will be well. There are for a third party, nor for the Radical among the men aspiring to the positions of County Register and Probate Judge those who possess but quarrels with all. If the Banner Charity. Probate Judge those who possess the essential requisites to adorn any position; who are honest, intelligent, and truly devoted to the welfare of the country; who would it also to see some statement to would, if elected, fullhfully seek to
